- c. A reconnaissance platoon;
  - d. A communications company; and
  - e. A chemical warfare platoon.
4. The aforementioned artillery battalion of the 4 Infantry Regiment in Maribor, is equipped with three batteries. One of these batteries is composed of Russian antitank, carriage-drawn field pieces of 6.72-centimeter caliber; the second battery has Russian 120-millimeter grenade launchers; while the characteristics of the remaining battery are unknown. Located near the barracks of the men of the 4 Infantry Regiment is a food commissary which contains supplies for the entire military garrison in Maribor.

Capljana

5. An unidentified tank regiment is located in the village of Capljana, situated south of Mostar and east of Ljubuski in Herzegovina. Some 20 American-made tanks were observed in this area. Shelters for the tanks have been erected on a hilly site, approximately one kilometer east of Capljana. New barracks for the men of this unspecified tank regiment are in the process of construction. So far, only three of these barracks (large, three-story buildings) have been completed, owing to the fact that inclement weather made it impossible for the labor units to work on this project for more than two months out of the entire winter season. Some 300 individuals are employed on this project, under the direction and supervision of an unidentified military construction enterprise in Sarajevo. Both the barracks and the tank shelters are enclosed by a barbed-wire fence, and a ditch, the depth of which is more than 1.60 meters, has been dug around the barracks.

Koprivnica

6. An unspecified Infantry Regiment of the 56 Infantry Division, with headquarters in Bjelovar, is located at Koprivnica.<sup>1</sup>

1.  Comment:
